Dear Rev. Steve:

On behalf of the leadership and congregation here at Metropolitan Community Church Los Angeles, I want to extend to you our deepest appreciation and gratitude for a "job well done!" What you designed for our recent Leading with Love Series (our Leadership Development Series) was right on target.

Our group got a great deal out of the day, learning not only invaluable information about themselves as individuals and about team building, but also experiencing an exciting day of training. Your facilitation style, by far, has been the best of any of our presenters. Your experience truly showed as you balanced practical activities, brief lectures and small group projects for our ministry leaders.

I continue to hear our leadership talking about that day, and most importantly, how they can implement God's work to reach more people in our community. I continue to see people utilizing the skills and tools that you taught them that day. (The fact that you ended the day with bringing the theory into reality and manageable goals was one of the best things—people came away really believing they can take big dreams and break them down into achievable steps!)

We are looking forward to having you return to help facilitate a ministry retreat in the near future. I know that your dedication and passion to building a better world through God's people will bless us immensely.

Thank you again for guiding us through our Leading with Love experience and we so look forward to continuing ministry with you very soon!

Peace and blessings in all things,
